Mrs. Emily R. Russell

Mrs. Emily Roberts Russell (nee Montgomery) was the daughter of William Montgomery and Eliza
Morehead Montgomery.

She was born on July 4, 1830, at Montgomery Ferry, near Harrisburg.
On June 3, 1858, she was joined in marriage to Hon. Samuel Lyon Russell of Bedford. They lived in Bedford, the home of the Russell family, from the time of the marriage until September 27, 1891, when the husband passed away, respected and honored by the whole community.

To this union were born six children—Dr. Montgomery Russell of Seattle, Wash.; Eliza Morehead and Isabelle Reed, who died in childhood;
Emily Florence, Eleanor Lyon and Samuel Morehead, who now reside in Peoria, Ill. Beside her four surviving children, three sisters survive her: Miss Julia Montgomery and Mrs. James McCrea, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Thomas T. Minor of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Russell was a charming lady of the old school and filled a large place in the life of Bedford in the past years. Her long life was a benediction to many who knew and loved her.

The end came not unexpectedly, while spending the winter with her son in Peoria. Dr. Montgomery Russell came from Seattle a few days before her death, which occurred on Wednesday, March 27.

On Thursday, after a brief service by the pastor in Peoria, the remains were brought to Bedford on Friday and the last services and interment occurred on Saturday when the Rev.
H. B. Townsend and Rev. E. F. Reimer, former pastors of the family, conducted the services at the home where many friends had gathered.

She will be greatly missed in church and town. The remaining members of the family returned Monday morning to Peoria although Dr. M. Russell went on to spend a few days with his wife's relatives in Washington, D. C.

The sympathy and respect of all our people follow the mourners to their homes.

Sanitary Ice

The Bedford Ice and Cold Storage Company have completed arrangements for the operating of their ice plant during the coming summer.
While some river ice has been stored,
the company feel that the citizens should be given the opportunity of securing ice that is free from germs of all kind and strictly pure. A new artesian well has been drilled and is furnishing an abundance of pure water. The distilling and filtration system is being overhauled and put in the best of condition and the customers of the company may rest assured that the ice furnished will be strictly pure. Representatives of the company are now calling on the people of the town, soliciting orders and the company assures us that the price of the distilled water ice will not be higher than the river ice. They purpose making the delivery service as near perfect as possible and all orders will be filled promptly.

Mrs. Annie Reiminger died at Queen Tuesday night, aged 45 years.

THE EASTER DANCE

Company L May Be Called to Mexico on Short Notice.

The Easter dance to be given by the officers of Company L at the Armory Monday night promises to be very well attended by the young people of Bedford and near-by towns.

Tickets can be secured at Dull's drug store or at the law office of Lieut. D. C. Reiley.

Invitations artistically arranged and bearing the coat of arms have been sent to a large number of those who enjoy the pleasures of dancing.
The officers are anxious to learn of any who have been overlooked.

Splendid, up-to-date music will be furnished by an orchestra for this occasion.

We are informed that three new recruits have been added to the rolls of the company and that several promotions will be made in the near future. The annual spring inspection, which will take place May 16th, bids fair to be a grand rally for the company. The officers are using every means to fully prepare every member for the test.

Lieutenant Miller was recently appointed Surveying Officer. He inspected all the Company property and condemned articles unfit for service.
These will be replaced with new ones.

Lieutenant Reiley, having been recently appointed the Recruiting Officer, has opened a recruiting station in his law office and is fully equipped ready to enlist recruits on short notice.

It is the purpose of Captain Metzger, that should orders be issued to go to the Mexican border, Company L shall be fully equipped and report for duty on short notice.

Here is an opportunity for young men to show how much patriotism flows through their veins. Conditions are grave, and the Adjutant General reports that he will be able to have the National Guard ready to move in twenty-four hours. Are you ready to step to the front and shoulder the rifle? If so, enlist in Company L.

BEDFORD TELEGRAPHY SCHOOL

Additional Equipment Installed for Students' Benefit.

With the completion of a double track system of railroad in its school of telegraphy here the Pennsylvania Railroad is to send out notices calling attention to the opportunities offered young men who desire to enter the railroad field. This school is located at the headquarters of the Bedford Division and has the personal supervision of practical railroad men, officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad. J.
C. Johnson, Superintendent of Telegraph Lines East of Pittsburgh, is in charge of its operation, with Thomas Saddington as resident manager.

The Bedford School of Telegraphy has the same equipment as a station on a double track road. In addition to the miniature railroad, engines and cars, a regular system of manual block signals, with cross-overs and sidings, has been installed. Dispatching trains by telegraph and telephone is taught in the school, while the students are also given a full course in agent's work, such as filing of tariffs, keeping reports, filling out standard blanks, and keeping the necessary records.

The text books used consist of the Book of Block Signal Rules, the Book of Rules for the Government of the Transportation Department, copies of all standard forms of Pennsylvania Railroad blanks and other standard literature as is supplied to agents and telegraph operators. The school is also in possession of an extensive library on technical works pertaining to telegraph, telephone and agent's work.

Since the establishment of the School of Telegraphy in 1907, there have been enrolled 364 students, 214 of whom have been graduated and are now employed as telegraphers.
The time required to complete the course is from six to eight months, and immediately upon its completion,
the graduates are given salaried positions with the Pennsylvania Railroad in direct line of promotion.

HECKERMAN LETTER

In Danger of Flood from Raging Mississippi.

Hickman, Ky., April 2, 1912.

Talk about ye olden time pumpkin floods at home, when the rooster perched on a shock of corn goes sailing down the stream, every now and then crowing to let those on the river bank know that he was still gay and happy. Why, you should see the floods down this way. Several years ago I got caught at Wynn, Ark., by the flood of the Mississippi River, when I stood and shoveled sand into bags a whole half day. All last night and today a large force has worked unceasingly, but the water just now is about to the top of the levee and it is feared by all that the levee can't stand the pressure much longer. Water, they tell me, is even now seeping through in many places. Bags of sand have been thrown into the entire extent of the portion of the levee that is along the railroad track. Thousands and thousands of bags of sand are piled along the water's edge to hold off the waves and many more are still being placed, but as I have already said, the levee is wet through and through and it is taking hard and constant work to hold it; not an idle moment for any one.

I did not fill bags with sand yesterday but I stood by and saw many others do so. In fact, all have worked so hard that they are all exhausted. The N. C. & St. L. R. R. abandoned their track here today and no more passenger or freight trains will travel over the levee until the river has fallen and the track is considered safe. Some want a cut made in the levee to let the water through, but this will inundate West Hickman and put out of commission the many factories that make that section of the city hum. Armed guards patrolled the whole length of the levee last night and in case of a break, they were to fire their guns and the fire alarm whistle was to be blown. People living behind the levee have been moving all day to any place that they can go to be safe. Should the levee break tonight and the fire alarm be sounded, there will be a great rush and you can imagine Dad crawling up a big sycamore tree that stands near the hotel. The first and only loss of life so far was that of a child, which was left fall into the water by its mother. The mother and several children had been put in the boat by the father, but just as he handed the last child to the mother the boat tipped and she (poor soul) let the little one fall into the water. It was out of sight in the twinkling of an eye and carried out on the broad Mississippi River.

The river has now reached a point along the main street of the town where they say that twelve inches more will put the water into many of the business houses. From reports received here today, the crest has not been reached by twelve or fourteen inches. How they calculate these things, I do not know. Let me tell you that this is a ticklish time for Dad.

I wanted to get to Memphis for Easter, but it doesn't look that way at this writing. I may have to get out and shovel sand into bags to help out. There are no pumpkins or corn shocks going down the river that I have seen, but thousands of logs that had been piled along on the bank have been carried out to mid-stream and the poor choppers' wages went down the swollen river. Thus owners lose many thousands of dollars' worth of lumber. I see by the papers that this flood is of great extent.

I was at a soap bubble party not long since. My, what a time we did have. Made all our pipes of paper and the size of the bubbles was immense. Many of them were as large as your head and some experts, by using a solution, the receipt for which I herewith give you, made bubbles as large as a tub, say three feet. Now these were by far the largest that I had ever seen. To make the solution which produced them, take a pint of

STOPS ITCHING SCALP OVERNIGHT

Guaranteed by F. W. Jordan to Stop Falling Hair and Banish Dandruff.

Itching Scalp, keeps you scratching and feeling miserable all the time. Wash your hair tonight with pure soap and water, rub on a goodly quantity of PARISIAN SAGE and the distressing itchiness will be gone in the morning.

PARISIAN SAGE is a pure, refreshing and invigorating hair dressing. Besides putting an end to scalp itch, dandruff and falling hair it nourishes the hair roots and puts a splendid radiance into faded and unattractive hair.

It should be used by every member of the family to keep the scalp free from dandruff germs and prevent baldness. Large bottle 50 cents at F. W. Jordan's and druggists everywhere.

rain or soft water and slowly sift into it half an ounce of powdered castile soap. After the soap powder has all dissolved, add half a pint of pure glycerine. Mix thoroughly and allow it to stand until the bubbles have disappeared, then pour your solution into a plate until the bottom is covered to the depth of half an inch. When this has been arranged take your pipe or cornucopia and begin work and I'll promise that you will be well paid for your trouble.

Wish some of your farmers would turn their attention to raising broom corn. Good broom corn today is worth $200 per ton, but my idea is that there is not enough broom corn, good or otherwise, raised in Bedford county. A pound of seed will plant an acre of ground and the cost of cultivation is not much. I am told that broom corn does not exhaust the soil as much as many others items which you raise. I tell you that it will pay the farmers of your county to raise broom corn.

Next Sunday will be Easter and Lent over and the devil happy. For says he:

"In holy Lent
The penitent
Is sorry for his sins.
He mends his ways—
And fasts and prays—
The devil only grins.
He fasts and prays,
The devil says,
'But wait till Lent is gone,
I know his ways
From by-gone days—
I'll get him later on.'"
Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

J. C. English, 212 Jefferson St., Williamsport, Pa., says: "Some months ago I had an attack of kidney trouble. My back ached and I felt very miserable. I took Foley Pills and in a few days I noticed my pains leaving and today I am well and vigorous. Foley Kidney Pills are the remedy for kidney trouble." Ed. D. Heckerman.

FARM AND ORCHARD

Notes From Six Counties Farmers' Exchange.

Following is a condensation of several papers from the Secretary of the Six Counties Farmers' Exchange at Schellsburg:

Grafting Wax
To make the best grafting wax, use one part tallow, two parts beeswax and four parts rosin, by weight. Put into a vessel and melt slowly. When the mixture is dissolved, pour into cold water, grease your hands thoroughly, and while the material is still soft pull it just as you would old-fashioned molasses candy; and the longer you pull the better the wax will be. On cold mornings you will find this wax pretty stiff; and you will have to warm it by pulling, the heat of the hands doing this.

How to Graft
Saw off the limb to be grafted; split it with a sharp knife, struck by a light hammer. Cut the grafting stock to wedge shape at the lower end, the wedge being thicker on the bud side than on the inside. Insert the graft in the cleft with the bud pointed out and a little above the limb being grafted. Usually two grafts are put in to make sure that one at least will grow. If you put only one in, put it on the lower of the outside of the limb. When you have the graft inserted, cover its end, the end of the limb grafted and the side splits thoroughly with the wax. The wound must be water-proofed.

The vital principle in grafting is to have the inner green bark of the graft make a junction with the inner green bark of the limb. If you are new to the work better slant the graft a little from the limb, so as to be sure to have a connection without which the sap cannot run from the limb to the graft.

After a frosty night it is safer to go over the orchard and make sure that the wax has not hardened.

Prices on Soy Beans
The Exchange has secured the following prices on soy beans for hay making, the Mammoth Yellow being the variety:

In 10 bushel lots or over, $1.60 per bushel, bags free; in less than 10 bushel lots at $1.65 per bushel, bags extra.

These prices are f. o. b. cars at Richmond, Va., and the freight rate is about 25c per 100 pounds from there to P. R. R. points in the district. The beans weigh 60 pounds to the bushel. In ordering you must allow 40 pounds per acre for beans planted with the grain drill; and from 75 to 90 pounds where broadcast and harrowed in.

Do not fail, before seeding, to send to Mr. A. B. Ross, at Schellsburg, for inoculating material for the soy beans; it will be sent you without charge, with full instructions how to use it.

It is very desirable that a number of members get together and combine their orders, so as to send in orders in lots of 10 bushels or over. Where these combined orders are sent in the name of one member and shipment made to him, a single Secretary's fee of 25c is all that is charged.

Canada Field Peas or Soy Beans?

Inquiries from members call for a general statement. Part of what I am writing is based on my own personal experience, and part of it in the experience of Mr. Ross, with whom I have talked the matter over. Peas and oats, if planted early, make a very satisfactory crop of unusually good hay. They should be cut when the oats are in the dough stage.

For improving the soil there is hardly any room for comparison. Only about 7% of the pea plant is in the root system, whereas between 45% and 50% of the soy bean plant is root. It is likely that the effect of the peas planted with the oats is enough to offset the ill effects of the oats on the ground; but this does not mean that the soil has been helped any; simply that the result is a stand off. The heavy root system of the soy beans, on the other hand, with its nitrogen gathered from the air and its plant food brought up from the subsoil furnishes a large quantity of humus-forming material and a large amount of nitrogen, both available for crops following.

For ground that is in fine condition peas and oats hay is undoubtedly a very valuable crop; and the hay is very much relished by stock. Better

IT'S SO EASY TO END CATARRH

Go to F. W. Jordan and say I want a HYOMERI outfit—take it home—open the box—pour a few drops of HYOMERI from the bottle into the little hard rubber inhaler—breathe it for five minutes and note the refreshing relief—breathe it four or five times a day for a few days and catarrh and all its disgusting symptoms will gradually disappear.

HYOMERI contains no opium, cocaine or other harmful drug and is sold on money back plan for catarrh, asthma, croup, colds, coughs and catarrhal deafness. Complete outfit $1.00—extra bottle if needed 50 cents at F. W. Jordan's and druggists everywhere. Simple instructions for use in every package—you can't fail to banish catarrh if you follow instructions.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE, FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, rebuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3584 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

Peas and oats than oats alone, if you are looking at the money side of the farm ledger. But for ground that has been at all overworked, and for ground that has run down badly, we need better treatment and better crops than we can get from the peas and oats. And the first step towards making such land profitable while building it up to a better state of fertility is to grow a crop of soy beans.

Prices for Rape Seed

Prices (f. o. b. cars at Minneapolis) for Dwarf Essex Rape, are $5.10 per 100 pounds in lots of not less than 220 pounds, bags free; $5.25 per 100 in 100 pound lots (bags extra); and, in smaller lots, at 5 1/2 cents per pound, bags extra. Bags at 15c each.

It takes from four to five pounds to seed an acre. For this reason it is suggested that in each district the members combine their orders to save freight and Secretary's fees. It ought to be easy to get together an order for 100 pounds. On such an order the Secretary's fee is but 15c.

For those along the railroad lines in the district, smaller quantities will be furnished from Schellsburg, where a supply will be kept on hand.

P. A. Bellas, Secretary.

NO CAUSE TO DOUBT

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Bedford only at our store, The Rexall Store. F. W. Jordan.

At the Edge of the Cloud

In the April Sports Afield we find the initial chapters of a serial dealing with the era of the Civil War, but not with its battles and sieges. At the Edge of the Cloud by S. D. Barnes, is a tale of the Ozark Mountains in the last days of the great fraternal strife. The scene of conflict had passed eastward, but the peace which reigned in its wake was that of combatants weakened by starvation, feebly guarding their throats from the fangs of prowling wolves. It is a verile, interest compelling story, and will especially appeal to all lovers of frontier life. ONE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The Contest to Be Fought in the Open by the Delegates of the People.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 23.
Hon. Walter E. Ritter, Williamsport, Pa.

My Dear Sir—Your letter of the 21st inst. has been received. It practically constitutes an acceptance of the propositions which I submitted to W. J. Brennan, Esq., last December and to you last January. The plan outlined for a single convention is, of course, in the main satisfactory to me, and in view of the resolution adopted by the executive committee, of which I am chairman, at its meeting on the 12th inst., I have no doubt it will also meet the approval of that body, because I know that they desire to secure a single convention, in which the controversy between us may be fought out in the open and settled by the delegates elected by the voters.

It is true that when this action was taken no names for temporary chairman of the convention were considered or even suggested, but the three gentlemen named by you are entitled to the confidence of the party and I will recommend to the executive committee that one of them be selected by the state executive committee, which will be called together at the earliest possible day.

In addition to this I would suggest that it is desirable that we should not give even an excuse to the opponents of the Democratic party for an attack on the legality of our ticket or its place on the ballot.

To this end, the temporary roll of the convention should be made up by the secretaries of our respective committees under the joint supervision of you and myself, outlining of said roll only those duly certified by two county commissioners of the respective counties, noting, however, all contests; if any, of which notice is given according to rules.

The roll thus made up to be certified by both parties according to the rules of the party.

When the convention assembles, the calls of both committees should be read by their respective secretaries, and the temporary officers as agreed upon should be certified as chosen by both executive committees. You shall call the convention to order and that I shall preside at the organization meeting of the state central committee, as you suggest; in both instances, you and I should both be present on the platform.

In this way, every technicality will be complied with and the possibility of questioning the regularity of the ticket will be eliminated.

I note what you say in regard to Colonel Guffey's decision not to be a candidate for national committee and your suggestion that Mr. Palmer decline to be a candidate for that office, and that you and I resign and also decline to be candidates for the state chairmanship.

I do not understand that you make our compliance with these two suggestions a condition of our agreement to hold only one convention, and I am glad of it, for it cannot be accepted.

The movement in which, as you say, Mr. Palmer and I have been active and prominent from its inception is based on the assertion of the right of the party to hold its own officers and representatives and determine its own policies without the dictation or control of any man or combination of men.

We stand on this. The Democrats of the state, or their duly elected representatives, must determine according to what they think best, uncontrolled and unhampered by any dictation, or deals or slating of candidates.

If we concede to you or your friends and supporters the right to exclude one or more candidates from consideration we in fact, in the name of one man, are endeavoring to control nominations and thereby we abandon the very principle for which we have been contending. This we cannot do without betraying the trust which the party committed to us.

From the beginning of this controversy, I have given my contention that (as you point out in your letter) 'the coming primary election admits of a popular referendum of our disputes to the decision of the voters of the party (to which) all can and ought to bow in hearty acquiescence.'

That is the only point which has jurisdiction, and its decision must be final.

We have not asked you to withdraw as a candidate. In fact, so far as I am concerned, if the voters decide to return to the old system, I would prefer that their choice should fall on one who has made an open fight for it rather than one who stood aloof in the struggle which was being made for the right of the people to rule themselves.

We are within about three weeks of the primaries. Candidates for county committee and state and national delegates have been nominated in every county in the state and have declared themselves one way or the other in the contest.

For us to withdraw as candidates now, on the eve of the primaries, when it is too late to select new candidates, would be to repeat the "Al-lentown convention" and would produce the same result.

The voters would feel that they had been betrayed—that again a deal had been made when we had vowed to return to act in their own interests—and the resentment would be as intense and as disastrous.

However we may feel personally, we must recognize the fact that we hold a trust which we cannot surrender. Mr. Palmer and I did not seek the position in which we were placed; we were forced into them because the friends of reorganization assumed that we would not under any circumstances or for any consideration, fall them in their determination to make the Democratic party of the state in all its action truly representative of the will and desires of the voters.

Harmony in the party is most desirable, but it must be that harmony among the voters which comes from the knowledge that every one has had an equal chance and a fair deal and that the will of the majority must settle all questions of party policy and party organization.

The plan suggested by me, which you substantially admit to be fair, will, if carried out, result in a united party and a party organization chosen by a majority of the party men.

It will afford me pleasure to meet you either in Philadelphia or Harrisburg (if soon, Philadelphia will be more convenient for me) for the purpose of considering any further necessary details for a united convention after which I shall immediately submit our conclusions to the executive committee of which I am chairman for final determination and approval as required by the rules of the party.

Truly yours,
GEO. W. GUTHRIE, Chairman

Your Lungs and Throat.

The preparation mentioned by the Rev. Chas. Sager has been for over sixty years of incalculable worth to sufferers from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, grippe, coughs, colds and all lung and throat diseases, and is a household remedy in many, many homes to which it has brought health and happiness.

Mr. C. A. ABBOTT, August 22, 1905.

Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biotin) in cases of pulmonary troubles. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of; that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told me that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,

REV. CHAS. SAGER.

Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.), N. Y.

The above letter shows what a great boon the Wilson Remedy was to Mr. Sager, but it is but one of thousands received testifying to the curative powers of this wonderful remedy. Write at once to Mr. Abbott at the above address and he will furnish you convincing proof of the great worth to humanity of this preparation.

Notice to Automobile Buyers

For the first time in the history of Motor Car manufacturing a real family touring car is offered for less than $1200.

The family man is the real back-bone of the nation, and a car suitable for him must be the popular car of the year. In the Maxwell Mascotte, the leading motor car builders in America have supplied just the car required by the family man and at a reasonable price. Many makers have tried, some have offered low prices, but poor designs and material—but this is the first time that a real family car of dignity, character and reputation, has been offered for less than $1200.

"Maxwell" Mascotte

It has been close figuring, but great purchasing power, unequaled manufacturing facilities and quantity production make it possible.

The aristocrat of moderate-priced cars is the well deserved name given to Maxwell cars, because even at comparatively low prices they

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mrs. C. Brothers of McKeesport, Pa., tells how Foley Kidney Pills cured her daughter. "For some time my daughter had a serious disorder of the kidneys and found in Foley Kidney Pills a speedy relief and later a complete cure. The use of Foley Kidney Pills did for her in a short time all that is claimed they will do and I can highly recommend them."

No Sale.

Mrs. Irving—"You didn't buy that Oriental rug after all, did you?" Mrs. Clint—"No, we took a friend of George's to see it and he said that while it was a genuine Boktara, beautifully woven and all that, it wouldn't last more than a hundred years, so we decided to look farther."

CULTIVATE MEMORY.

It Will Prove a Valuable Asset in Business Affairs.

Memory is an excellent quality, and every business demands a special memory adapted to its particular needs.

Take the doctor, for example. He has to know a human body better than its very owner and must carry in his mind perhaps for years little points that may be needed for future reference. Medical memory is quite as important as medical knowledge.

Every lawyer is obliged to know, as a child knows its alphabet, the principles of law, and the judge must call his trained memory even further.

The editor or subeditor engaged upon a paper must remember the contents of his file for many months back. The stockbroker must depend upon his memory for much of the information upon which he operates.

Naturally clergymen must allow their memories to run upon religious matters, and there are many divines who can literally repeat whole chapters from the Scriptures.

CENTRALIZING SCHOOLS

A move is on foot to centralize the schools of Bedford Township and establish a township high school, and we are informed it is meeting with approval from many citizens of the township.

This is not a new idea for schools of this kind have been in operation for a number of years in many states.

It is claimed that the centralization plan has proved economical as well as decidedly advantageous to pupils.

The cost of books and fuel is decidedly reduced in addition to the saving in teachers' salaries, which is brought about by the grading of schools, which enables teachers to care for larger numbers of pupils than they can care for in ungraded schools, thus decreasing the number of teachers.

More important than the expense feature is the fact that in centralized schools the students are given advantage of a more extended course, which of necessity better fits them to grapple with the problems of life, which, after all, is the great object of our school system.

The columns of The Gazette are open for a full, free, frank discussion of this matter by the citizens of the township.

BRIBERY CHARGE

We regret our inability to publish the lengthy article that appeared on Tuesday of this week in the Harrisburg Patriot and Johnstown Democrat, in which Dr. Elftown charges A. S. Fisher, Esq., of Altoona with having attempted to bribe him to withdraw as a candidate for delegate to the National Democratic Convention, and Mr. Fisher's reply and denial. The two articles would occupy about six columns of The Gazette and their publication is therefore impossible.

The attempt of the Harrisburg Patriot of the following day to give the matter larger staging for political effect by referring in bold headlines to the article as sweeping the counties of the district as "a forest fire," is not in keeping with the utterances of a true reformer. We have not seen men falling over each other in their frenzy to read the article in The Patriot, copies of which were distributed over the county on Tuesday, neither have we heard of anyone rushing to the Raystown Branch.

AN EASTER THOUGHT

Sullen shroud the worm has spun,
Winter has Death's Triumph won.
Now—behold the Vernal Sun
Blinks the Easter Day.

Blossoms—flowers in the germ
Sleep and wait the coming term.
Life their faith shall soon confirm Against the Easter Day.

Spring shall Resurrection bring Life from Death shall upward spring;
Hope and Life and Love take wing
On this Easter Day.

Life in tomb no longer hid,
Burst the bands of Chrysalis;
Birth of Bondage shall be rid,
Life comes forth today.

New-born butterflies take wing
Spring's first blooms their perfume bring;
Mating birds their carols sing
On this Easter Day.

Risen now is Christ our Lord,
Life eternal in His Word;
Death is slain by Life's quick sword
Lo! this Easter Day.—H. B. T

To the Democratic Voters of Bedford County

Everett, Pa., April 1, 1912.
Being a Democrat sincerely interested in the welfare of the party and the triumph of its lofty principles; having announced in the regular manner as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic State Convention from this county, and believing you ought to know what I stand for if elected, I wish to take you into my confidence. I can assure you I am heartily in favor of establishing a clean, strong and vigorous organization as against the trading combine headed by Guffey, Donnelly, Ryan and Mulvihill.

I shall support and co-operate with the men who have been active in building up a new organization under the leadership of Guthrie and Palmer. This is the only refuge: If you believe in honest militant organization, then I claim your support.

I am for the election of delegates at large to the National Democratic Convention, who will honestly work and vote for the nomination of Governor Woodrow Wilson for President.

I am for George W. Guthrie, the late Reform Mayor of Pittsburgh, for State Chairman; Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer, the distinguished fighter and Congressman, for member of the National Committee, and that other superb leader and champion of the Democracy and the common people, Governor Woodrow Wilson, for President.

This is my platform, I have opposition, but if you are for what I represent then I shall be glad to have your support and influence. My name will appear on the ballot, William R. Speer "favors Woodrow Wilson." A cross in the square opposite my name votes for me.

I should be pleased to have a line from you or if you can find time, call to see me when in town.

Yours for Democracy,
W. R. SPEER.

Devoe Takes Least Gallons: Always

Paint Devoe; it's the cheapest paint in the world; never mind the price; it may or may not be more. Less gallons will paint the house; and the paint will outwear anything.

Skip wear; you've got to wait, to find that out. It covers more; you haven't got to wait to find that out. It's the cheapest of all; no matter about the price.

Mr. A. J. Smith, Littlestown, Pa., painted his house; his painter told him to get 13 1/2 gallons Devoe; had 4 1/2 left.

Mr. A. H. Rebert, same town, has lots of buildings; paints Devoe; pays 20 cents more a gallon for it; is glad to; says it's the cheapest paint there is.

That's how.

Great Popularity of Plan to Sell Medicine at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

Ed. D. Heckerman, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Company to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's Specific for 25c Ed. D. Heckerman has so much faith in the Remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's Specific will cure you. If it does not, it will not cost you a cent.

This latest achievement of science is of great value in curing sick headache. Thousands of women are today free from that painful disease solely through the use of this specific.

ANIMAL SUPERSTITIONS.

Chief Among Them in Japan is the Fear of the Fox.

Chief among Japanese animal superstitions is the fear of the fox, which is believed to have supernatural power. Shrines called "Inari Jinsha," in which the fox is enshrined as a deity, are numberless. The name of the deity written in Chinese characters signifies fox, and from this it came to be generally accepted that the god was really a fox. Its natural cunning is greatly enlarged upon, and it is believed to be capable of misleading and deceiving human beings, which causes many to pray to placate the fox god.

The badger is the next most dreaded animal in the superstitious mind. It is believed to have power to annoy people, its particular habit being a transformation into a Buddhist priest, in which disguise it is guilty of various deceptions and impositions. The crying of weasels and the baying of dogs are considered evil omens, and such insignificant happenings send a shudder over the believers.

On the other hand, a light colored mouse in the house is a sign of happiness, good omens are presaged by what are considered the pleasant cries of crows in the morning, while the so called unpleasant notes forecast death and other dire disasters. If a spider falls from the ceiling in the morning he brings pleasure, but if at night it is thought reverses will follow. To see a centipede at night means happiness.—Pearson's Weekly.

A POOR TYPE OF CITIZEN.

The Good Man Who Lives by and Exclusively For Himself.

I know a certain type of man who poses as a good citizen, says Bert Walker. He breaks no laws, lives morally, pays his honest debts and is never tangled up in lawsuits. But he lives of himself, by himself and for himself only.

When a call is issued for volunteers to take hold of the car of progress and give a lift he never answers. When calamity has befallen people in a certain locality and charitable humanity flies to their rescue he is never one of their number. When money is needed to glid the spire of public enterprise his name is never on the list. When he sees some neighbor stuck in the mud he goes around to avoid him. In fact, were he standing on the shore and should observe the ship of state fast sinking in the surf, never a life line would he throw. He didn't bore the hole in the side of the vessel that lets in the water, so it is none of his concern what happens.

But were all mankind made of this kind of clay have you ever thought what would happen? There would be no churches, no hospitals for the sick, no institutions for the unfortunate nor rest rooms for the weary. Civilization would roam in jungles and the strongest would rule. He is not a good citizen, but get on and if you say so.—Kansas City Journal.

Scott's Emulsion

ALL DRUGGISTS

11-23

When Pride is Justified

Far too many mortals are vain and self-satisfied because of some temporary mercenary advantage, and in their eagerness to display that advantage at every opportunity often destroy their greatest blessing, the physical counterpart of sunshine, which is their own health. Neglected colds, irregular meals, overloaded stomachs and night revelry result in shattered nerves, depressed vigor and fatigue, all of which invite decline and disease.

Each person stands sentinel at the portals of his own health and he who guards, protects, strengthens and builds up a rugged constitution is justified in pride and finds therein his own recompense—the capacity to enjoy the fullness of life.

The strain of modern commercial and social living taxes strength and energy and in maintaining the highest self-efficiency we should not only cultivate deep breathing, out of door exercise, regularity and temperance in all things, but study the greatest of all physical power-creators which is body nourishment. In this, alcoholic preparations should be carefully shunned and such pre-digested nourishment as Scott's Emulsion which enriches the blood and creates vitality by building, healing and strengthening, should be selected.

Scott's Emulsion is scientifically prepared and is good for teething babies, nursing mothers, growing children, the aged and infirm. It contains no wine or stimulant, but is wholesome and pure and has helped millions to regain health and sustain it. Worthless substitutes are sometimes offered, but Scott's Emulsion is the genuine pure food-medicine.

A Mother's Care

A careful mother will not give her child a medicine without knowing it is pure, contains no opiates and has healing and curative qualities. Such a medicine is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all affections of the throat, chest, and lungs. Best and safest for children and grown persons. Contains no opiates. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Good for American Detectives.

Detectives who discovered a copy of Oliver Wendell Holmes' poems in the suit case left behind by a burglar decided that they had a good clue to the man's identity. They figured out what a man who had Oliver Wendell Holmes' poetry would probably look like, and when they saw a man who answered their mental picture they examined him. Of course, it was the very man. American detectives lead the world.

Small Girl's Protest.

Little Marma's father employed help who spoke Norwegian, which Marma could not understand. One day her mother and aunt were spelling what in their conversation Marma was not to comprehend. With a little sniff she said: "I don't like spelling; just like Norwegian."

"Fifty Lucre" in Truth.

The English system is to destroy all bills returning to the Bank of England, no matter how brief has been their life in circulation. In this manner they keep their money reasonably clean, but in this country we keep it in circulation until it is in tatters and incriminated with the gods only know what.

NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP

By Katharine Dangerfield
Day was done, and I was sitting Dreaming in the fading light
When I heard a soft voice tell me:
"Mamma, me is tired tonight;
Me is tired of all day playin'—
Put my soldiers all away;
Tell the pussy 'at me's sleepy
But tomorrow 'ae will play."

On my lap he climbed and nestled,
Laid his head upon my breast,
Said he loved his small gray pussy
But he loved his mamma best.
Then I sang a bylo-baby,
Gave him to the Angels' keep
And he went to dreamland saying,
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

"Now I lay me down to sleep,"
Said the baby on my knee;
"Pray the Lord my soul to keep,"
He repeated after me;
"Should I die before I wake,"
Little eyes were closing fast,
"Pray the Lord my soul to take,"
Said the little boy at last.

Just a week and I was kneeling,
Stricken, in the fading light
When I heard a faint voice whisper:
"Mamma, me is tired tonight;
Me is tired of all day sleepin'
An' me wants a little play;
Bring my soldiers an' the pussy—
Don't you let her run away."

On the bed I lined the soldiers,
Pussy marching at their head,
But—"Tate 'em down until tomorrow,
Me's too tired tonight," he said.
Then I clasped my one loved darling,
Watched the shadows slowly deep,
And I felt the hot tears blind me
As he laid him down to sleep.

"Now I lay me down to sleep,"
Said the baby on my breast;
"Pray the Lord my soul to keep,"
As he slowly sank to rest;
"Should I die before I wake,"
Little eyes were closing fast,
"Pray the Lord my soul to take,"
Faltering little lips at last.

On the hearth through many years,
Staunch and steadfast for my sake,
Soldiers still await the morning
When their captain shall awake.
Pussy, old and blind and lame,
Sits beside me while I weep
For the little boy who said:
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

The raising of cattle forms one of the most important agricultural industries in the Netherlands, and the Holland herds, some of which can trace their pedigree back for centuries, are justly famous. ACTUAL STARVATION

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You.

Although Indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling, and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. W. Jordan.

The Spring Plowing

Much of the history of this year's crops can be foretold from the preparation of the seed bed in the spring. In the dry-land farming districts of the west they are growing with certainty crops that average better than our own, and doing this with less than half the rainfall we have. And yet, along about the time that oats are heading, and, again, when the corn begins to make its ear, we find ourselves absolutely dependent on an opportune rain to make a good crop; and, if the rain does not happen to come, we are inclined to blame Providence for a fault which is wholly our own.

In four of the last five years we did not get that rain for the oats; in all five years we did not get it just at the right time for the corn; 80% failures with oats and 100% with corn, on the old way of figuring, ought to make us scurry around to find some safer system.

Nearly every factor that affect the oats and corn crops is largely within our control. In the case of the oats we cannot be sure of getting the oats in early if we have an unfavorable spring; nor can we be sure that excessively wet weather at harvest will not cause the oats to lodge, or prevent timely harvesting.

In the case of corn we cannot be sure that continued rains at the time of pollination will not interfere with the proper pollination of the ears.

The other contingencies, which are really responsible for nearly all of the failures with the two crops, we can control. We can plow deeper, prepare the seed bed so as to save moisture, get more humus into the ground by a better cropping system, and use seed that, given a chance, will produce better crops than the seed we ordinarily use.

Plowing Deeper—Year after year many of us plow at almost precisely the same depth, turning over for the roots of the crops in the rotation the same old soil that has been offered to preceding crops for years.

Each year we ought to get a little deeper with the plow, turning up not over an inch of subsoil and giving it a chance to weather.

This subsoiling is not a difficult matter with most of our limestone and sandy lands, nor with many of the shales. It is a difficult matter with those shales where the solid shale bed lies close to the surface. In such cases, however, the use of the deeper-rooted, subsoiling legumes (soy beans, alfalfa, etc.) will help to break up the subsoil shales and allow us to work them to the surface with the plow.

Harrowing—Plowed ground should not be allowed to lie unharrowed over night. The ground plowed in the forenoon and early afternoon should be harrowed in the late afternoon; and both oats and corn ground should be thoroughly harrowed to save moisture. The ground should also be harrowed after each rain as soon as it will stand the horses; 100% corn failures and 80% oats failures in the last five years call loudly for this kind of work in the future. It is crop insurance.

Deeper plowing and thorough and constant harrowing are along the lines of dry farming practices; and, while we do not need to follow the dry-farming methods entirely, we certainly should follow them to a limited extent, if we are going to be certain of good crops. A. B. Ross.

H. B. Creep, 59 No. 18th St., Harrisburg, Pa., says, "Some time ago I had occasion to use Foley Kidney Pills for my kidneys which were unhealthy and very irregular in action. Now after taking Foley Kidney Pills for a short time only, I have no pains whatever and the kidneys are acting properly and regularly. This was brought about by the use of Foley Kidney Pills which I heartily recommend." Ed. D. Heckerman.

It is not possible to hem or face the skirt without showing the stitches. What dressmakers are doing is to make the hem (or facing) sufficiently deep to give it a certain amount of trimming value—about six or seven inches, certainly not less than five. Satin is usually hemmed by hand, but may be done by machine if an even, rather loose tension is used; or, if you have a chain-stitch machine, the chain might be made on the right side. A line of fine cord or silk soutache run along the stitching-line would conceal the sewing if you do not want it to show, and also emphasize the border effect of the hem.—"Mrs. Purdy's Answers to Questions in Dressmaking," in The Ladies' World for April.

Jews and Suicide.

The Jewish World of London notes that a proportionately greater number of suicides occur among the Jews in England and in America than in the countries in which the race meets with the best treatment. This is said to be due to the fact that the Orthodox Jews of European countries look upon self destruction as a crime no less abhorrent than is murder, whilst many Anglicized Jews are more lax in their adherence to the teachings of their fathers.

Long Sermons.

Of one of the sermons, preached by Dr. Samuel Parr in 1800, the lord mayor for the year is said to have remarked to the preacher that there were four things in the sermon which he had been very sorry to hear. "Dear, dear my lord," exclaimed the doctor, anxiously, "what were they?" "Sir," was the reply, "I mean the quarters struck by the church clock."—London Chronicle.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

USEFUL HINTS FOR CONVERTS.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.
Paper bag cooking is a liberal education in other things beside economy and flavor. It teaches you to beware, also to take care. The being ware applies particularly to the bags themselves—their care and keeping, no less their use.

If the paper bag habit is firmly established do not keep the bags lying about loose, nor huddled in drawers, nor, worst of all, rolled up or crumpled. A large part of their value is risked by such crumpling. Let them lie flat where it is dry, cool and airy. Of course, protect them from dust.

To this send get a light wooden box, nail shelves inside it, say two or three inches apart, and hinge on a door, or hang a washable curtain over the front of it. Lay the bags upon the shelves, each size separate. It may be well to mark the bag-sizes on the shelves holding them.

Lard, butter or drippings for greasing the bags should be kept in small wide-mouthed glass jars, with close-fitting-glass tops.

Roulade of Veal.—Get half a breast of veal, bone it carefully, lay it on a board, skin side down, season with salt and pepper, and spread thickly over it sausage stuffing. To make the stuffing, take half pork sausage meat and half well dried bread crumbs and moisten with a beaten egg and enough milk to make it stick together, but not to make it wet. Roll up carefully and tie with clean string, taking care especially to keep the ends close. Rub over with butter or dripping and put in a well buttered bag, laying around it slices of carrot, turnip and onion. Cook for five minutes in a very hot oven, then slack heat half, and cook for forty-five minutes more.

Saute of Chicken with Mushrooms.—Cut a young tender chicken into joints, trim off all projecting bones, season with salt and pepper, not too highly, and brush over with melted butter. Put into a well-buttered bag with eight large or twelve small mushrooms, cut in slices. Add a pinch of herbs, a very small onion, and half a gill of good white stock. Seal bag tight, give ten minutes in a very hot oven, then thirty in moderate heat. Take up on a hot dish and keep hot while you make the gravy. Take for the gravy the hot liquor from the bag, put it in a bowl with the yolk of an egg beaten up in half a gill of cream. Stir hard over hot water, but do not let boil. When thoroughly blended, pour over the chicken, garnish with chopped parsley, a few mushroom heads and half moons of crisp puff paste. Serve as hot as possible.

Luncheon Savories.—Spread small thin round water crackers with anchovy paste mixed half and half with butter, lay upon the paste a thin slice of ripe tomato, over that a sprinkle of grated cheese, then a slice of banana, more grated cheese, and on top a slice of pickled walnut. Season as you pile with a suspicion of salt and paprika, and pour a little melted butter over all. Cook in a buttered bag ten minutes in a fairly hot oven. (Copyright, 1911, by the Associated Literary Press.)

PAPER BAG DINNER.

By M. Soyer, Chef of Brooks' Club, London.

Roulade of Beef.—Take a pound of cold roast beef, free of fat, and skin, put it through the mincing machine, and add to it six ounces of minced ham or bacon, fat and lean together. Season highly with pepper and salt. Add a teaspoonful of minced olives, a few drops of tabasco, a teaspoonful of minced parsley, a grate of lemon peel, and a dust of nutmeg. Mix well, then add four ounces of macaroni, cooked and cut into bits and then tossed in butter. Mix again, then add the yolks of two eggs well beaten, and, last of all, the whites whipped stiff. When all this is thoroughly mixed, roll up in well-greased Soyer paper (a side or end of a bag cut for the purpose), put in a greased bag, fold, clip, put on broiler, and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with a thick tomato sauce.

Potatoes Maitre d'Hotel.—Cut up six cold boiled potatoes. Put in a well-buttered bag, with half a glass of milk, an ounce of butter, salt, pepper, a grate of nutmeg, and a little chopped parsley. Fold and clip bag, and cook for fifteen minutes.

Spinach.—Pick and wash clean, but leave as wet as possible. Put in a bag, with a little sugar and a pinch of salt. Seal bag, and cook for thirty-five minutes. Stand broiler on a plate, prick the bag, let the water drain out, then dish up, and add a lump of butter, dust with black pepper and serve.

Peach Roll.—Make a good crust, as for shortcake, but rather softer, divide, and roll each half into a long slip. Sift sugar upon the bread-board rather scantily. Lay the rolled crust upon it, then sift sugar over the upper side of it. Cover the sugar with ripe, juicy peaches sliced very thin. Sprinkle on more sugar, dot here and there with bits of butter, and roll up, pinching the ends tight. Slip the rolls inside a greased bag—the nearer they fill it the better. Lay on the upper shelf of the stove, and cook thirty minutes. (Copyright, 1911, by Nicholas Soyer.)

Stimulate Children?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a strong and safe tonic for the young. Not a drop of alcohol in it.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick-headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them. Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Valuable Suggestion Important To Everyone

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and mention the Bedford Gazette. Mar 15-41.

Drew Line at Rehearsal.

Fred Lennox, spending the summer in Chicago, took a flat close to a railroad, which he surrendered after a week's occupancy. "I think I could have become used to the trains going by in the night," he said, "but every morning at eight o'clock two engines came under my window and rehearsed until noon."

How to Distinguish the Destructive Disease.

All owners of timber land should be on their guard against this new disease. Within a few years it has destroyed nearly all the chestnut timber in the eastern part of this state. A circular issued by the Chestnut Tree Blight Commission, gives the following description of the disease: A large number of people know of the inroads which chestnut blight has made on our forests, but few are acquainted with the exact nature of this new pest. Many cases of "Blight" on chestnut trees when investigated proved to be dead or unhealthy trees due to insect attack, lightning or other common injuries.

Few people recognize the blight in time to save the affected trees, as the trees show little outward sign of their true condition until irreparably injured. The disease may be located and recognized by some or all of the following characteristics:

1. Dead branches, usually with withered leaves clinging to them. In the spring, prior to death, the leaves on the infected branches remain small and sickly looking, and gradually take on a yellowish tinge. When these leaves finally die, they have a peculiar wilted appearance. The burrs also remain small and undeveloped. On the branches attacked after the leaves have fully developed, the leaves assume their yellowish or reddish-brown fall colors. On trees killed by blight during the growing season, prior to September, both leaves and burrs usually remain clinging to the branches during the following winter and are of great value in helping to locate infected trees. All dead branches should be examined closely for further indications of the disease, particularly at the base of the dead parts.

2. Cankers on diseased branches or the trunk, where the bark is not thick and rough. These cankers are areas of dead, discolored, sunken bark, often more or less broken by cracks or cheeks into the inner bark. Old, thick bark does not change in outward appearance until a year or so after it is diseased, when it begins to peel from the tree in shreds.

Prior to shedding, thick bark which is diseased, gives forth a peculiar hollow sound when struck with a hammer, due to a space between the wood and bark caused by the decay of the inner bark.

3. Small reddish blisters appear on cankers with smooth bark. Later the tops of these blisters burst, forming small wart-like eruptions or pustules of a sulphur-yellow, orange or brown color. In the deep cracks of old bark, the pustules form reddish or orange-colored lines. These pustules are the fruiting bodies which form the spores. Sometimes bright yellow, twisted threads of the tiny microscopic spores are sent out from the pustules. These threads are jelly-like at first, but soon become firm and brittle. They vary from one-sixteenth to one-half inch in length, and are dissolved by the rain, which distributes the spores over the surface of the bark.

4. The mycelium or the vegetative portion of the fungus shows as small, irregular fan-shaped areas of yellowish or buff-color, when the surface of diseased bark is shaved off or cut into slant-wise. This is the portion which produces the spore-bearing pustules, and also the part that saps the life of the bark.

5. Death of tops, or of entire trees. These dead trees are often conspicuous for the reddish brown patches of bark, due to the presence of the pustules.

6. Suckers or water sprouts, which develop at the base of the cankers or at the base of the diseased tree. They are frequently very numerous, and grow vigorously for one or two seasons, after which they are usually killed by the fungus.

Pennsylvania is the first state to systematically attempt to check the progress of the blight. On June 14, 1911, Governor Tener signed an act which was passed by a unanimous vote of both Houses of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The act provides for the creation of a Commission of five persons, and gives them complete authority to attack and destroy this disease by whatever method they may adopt.

The chestnut timber in this county is too valuable to let it be destroyed, if it can possibly be prevented. The disease has already appeared in Bloomfield and Bedford Townships. If persons, finding blight on their trees, will inform me, I will promptly inform the commission and agents will be sent to investigate conditions and take measures to stamp out the disease and prevent its spread. Address John Lutz, Bedford, Pa.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson I.—Second Quarter, For April 7, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Cor. xv, 1-11. Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Acts ii, 32—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We turn aside this week from the regular lesson to spend an hour on the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ a topic on which we should meditate continually, for if Christ be not risen all are lost and preaching and faith are equally in vain (verses 14-19). Consider well His own testimony that He would rise again the third day (Matt. xii, 40; xvi, 21; xvii, 9, 22, 23; xx, 17, 19; xxvi, 32; John ii, 19-21). Then consider the testimony of those who saw Him after He rose from the dead—Peter, John, Stephen and Paul. Take two testimonies out of many—"This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses." * * * "God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ" (Acts ii, 32, 36). Our lesson begins with the words, "I declare unto you the gospel," and in verses 3, 4, he defines it in these words: "Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures; He was buried, and He rose again the third day, according to the Scriptures." In Rom. i, 1-4, he speaks of it as "the gospel of God concerning His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord declared to be the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead." In II Tim. ii, 8, he says, "Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead, according to my gospel." Before He ascended He ordered that repentance and remission of sins should be proclaimed in His name among all nations (Luke xxiv, 47), and we need only to listen to Paul in Acts xiii, 38, 39, to understand how simply and fully it was done.

"Through this man is proclaimed unto you the forgiveness of sins, and by Him all that believe are justified from all things." As in verse 2 of our lesson, "By which also ye are saved * * * unless ye have believed in vain." In verses 5 to 8 Paul mentions five appearances of Christ between His resurrection and ascension, and there were five more, including three others on the resurrection day—His appearance to Mary, to the other women and to the two on the way to Emmaus. His appearance to Paul on the way to Damascus (verse 9) was after His ascension, as was also His appearing to him at Corinth and in Jerusalem (Acts xviii, 9, 10; xxiii, 11). Stephen and John also saw Him after His ascension. The statement in Acts i, 3, concerning His resurrection appearances is full and clear, "He shewed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." The testimony of Peter in Acts ii, iii, iv, v, concerning the resurrection is very strong, notably that in Acts v, 30, 32, "Our daily testimony to the risen Christ should be such as to compel people to see that we have been with Jesus. If we know the power of His resurrection it will be so, and He who will finally subdue all things unto Himself (verses 24, 28) will so subdue us and bring every thought into captivity that the daily life shall be the life of Jesus made manifest in our mortal flesh (I Cor. x, 5; iv, 10, 11). Seeing Jesus lay one very low in his own estimation, so Paul speaks of himself as the least of the apostles (verse 9). He elsewhere speaks of himself as less than the least of all saints and again as the chief of sinners (Eph. iii, 8; I Tim. i, 15). Compare the experience of others in Job xlii, 5, 6; Isa. vi, 5; Dan. x, 8, Rev. i, 17. Where there is the least good opinion of self it is because the King has not been seen in His beauty. We must learn to say as Paul said in Rom. vii, 18, "I know that in me—that is, in my flesh—dwelleth no good thing" then we can add, as he does, in our lesson (verse 10), "By the grace of God I am what I am," and concerning all service, "Not I, but the grace of God which was with me." We should be conscious also, as he was, that we have only to receive from the Lord and deliver to others what we have received (verse 3 and chap. xi, 23). When I consider that the words and works of the Lord Jesus were always the Father's words and works I can only desire to so yield and abide that I may be His messenger with His message and that He may work in me to will and to do of His good pleasure (John xii, 49; xiv, 10; Hag. i, 13. Phil. ii, 13). This is restful and gives great quietness and, according to verse 58 of our lesson chapter, makes one steadfast, unmovable and always abounding. The resurrection of Jesus Christ makes certain our own resurrection or translation (verses 23, 50-54), and the assurance of a body, like His glorified body which will never again be weak or weary or suffer or die, is a great inspiration while we continue in these mortal bodies. In verse 28 we have what seems to me the highest mountain peak in all Scripture, "That God may be all in all." Christ shall then have reigned and His saints with him until all things shall have been subdued unto Him. Then shall there be no more curse, no sin nor suffering, no more death, but the long expected kingdom of peace and righteousness shall fill the earth (Rev. xxi, 3, 5; xii, 2, 4; Isa. xxxiii, 1, 17). As these truths hold us we shall know Him and the power of His resurrection (Phil. iii, 10).

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. The Philadelphia Record

The Philadelphia Record is the acknowledged authority for market prices. Merchants in Philadelphia all base their prices of eggs, poultry, butter, grain, and country produce generally, upon the figures quoted in The Record, and if shipping goods to Philadelphia either directly or through an agent it is important for the farmers of this vicinity to know every day what The Record quotes. They can always get The Record prices for their goods, and in some cases can make contracts on a premium basis if their goods are exceptionally well graded and show high quality. They will find that The Record will help them in the disposal of their products, and that they will get the full market value for them if they base their prices upon its quotations.

OWLS AND PARROTS

Down by the side of Dunning's Creek Where the great big fish they're catching,
Two old hoot owls, mild and meek,
In a sycamore tree were hatching.

Perched on the top of its hoary trunk Was a man that's brave and daring;
Snatched from the nest of sticks and punk
Two owlets, boldly staring.

Now to the north bound evening train At Smith's Crossing stopping,
Warren P. in a hurry came With the little owlets flopping.

Good as a cat an owl is found, For mice in barns and garrets;
But lo! while he rode from Smith's around
These owlets changed to parrots.

At Osterburg he left the track— In the grangers mill they found him

With the parrots at his back And a crowd of men around him.

"Now may I ask by and by Will they talk when we beseech them?"
Jokingly piped A. I. I.
"Of course, but you must teach them."

"What is the price you ask," said he, "For birds that can talk and 'hol-ler'?"
The owner remembered the sycamore tree

And quickly replied "one dollar"

The bidder thought to his store and cot

The parrots he'd like to carry; So W. P. the dollar got
And the owls were sold to Harry.
